

SAM CHAPPELL SHOT.

Chas. Mitchell, Formerly of Madisonville, Makes Another Assault.

CHAPPELL'S THICK SKULL SAVED HIS LIFE.

The Evansville Courier of Saturday prints the following story about the shooting of Sam J. Chappell, the negro who operated extensively in Hopkins county as leader and organizer for the United Mine Workers two years ago:

Sam J. Chappell, colored, who conducts a saloon at the corner of Fifth and Cherry streets, had a wrangle with his barkeeper, Charles Mitchell, which ended in Mitchell assaulting his employer with a pair of knucks and shooting him in the head.

The direct cause of the trouble is not known at present, but it is said Mitchell was drinking at the time of the shooting. It happened at about 7 o'clock. After assaulting Chappell with a pair of knucks Mitchell drew a revolver and fired at Chappell, the bullet hitting him directly in the center of the forehead and ranging downward and backward. The bullet ploughed its way five inches under the skin and then came out at the back of his head. It was only the thickness of Chappell's skull that saved his life. The skull turned the bullet. Dr. Jones attended Chappell.

After the shooting Mitchell hurriedly left the saloon and up to press time had not been caught. It is thought he has crossed the river and is in Kentucky.

These two had trouble at Madisonville some months ago and at that time Mitchell shot Chappell, inflicting a slight wound.

Hopkinsville, Ky., Oct. 31.—Daddy Burton, a patient in Western Lunatic Asylum for nearly half a century, was accidentally shot in the woods near here this afternoon by John W. Long, an aged citizen. He was dead when taken up, but it is not known whether the shot or fall killed him. Long gave himself up.

Judge Cowell fined them $25.00 and trimmings.

Boys Played Pranks.

Mayor Burr Improving.

Mayor Burr, who has been seriously ill for several days, has improved to such an extent that he is now able to resume his duties with the St. Bernard Mining Company. His many friends are glad to note his improvement.

IMPORTANT DECISION

Rendered in Favor of Independent Mine Operators.

A speech from Ashland, Ky., to the Courier-Journal says: In the United States Circuit Court at Clarksburg last week Judge Goff handed down a decision of much interest to coal companies relative to the supply of railroad cars at the mines. The case was a mandamus suit of the Kingwood Coal Company against the West Virginia Northern Railroad Company and others in favor of the plaintiff company. The decision was based on the working capacity of mines and not on rating given them by railroad companies, and upon the provisions of the interstate commerce law. The decision is far reaching as it affects the relation between railroad companies and coal operators, and accords rights to independent operators not heretofore observed by railroad companies. The Kingwood Company was getting only 18 percent of the cars, and the decree directs that it be given 31 percent.

Mr. Lemuel Groves and Miss Anna Clements were quietly married at the bride's sister, Mrs. R. L. Wilson, Oct. 28, by Squire Sisk in the presence of a few friends of the family. We extend best wishes to the happy couple.

DEMOCRATS CARRY STATE.

Majority Conceded to Be in the Neighborhood of Twenty Thousand.

GORDON ELECTED CIRCUIT JUDGE BY FIVE HUNDRED.

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 4.—The entire Democratic State ticket, headed by Gov. J. C. W. Beckham, carried the State yesterday by approximately 20,000 majority.

The counties heard from by the Herald gave Gov. Beckham net majorities over Col. Morris B. Belknap of over 19,000. The counties not heard from gave John W. Yerkes 4,017 net majority over Gov. Beckham. If these counties have given about the same majorities this year as in 1900 the Democratic majority would be over 20,000.

The most notable district in the State was, of course, the Fifth. By manipulations surpassing belief a majority of over 5,000 was heaped up.

In the First it was expected that the Republicans would make gains, but the contrary resulted. This was also true of the Second. The Third about met expectations, being very close. The Fourth increased its Democratic majority. The Fifth's tale has been told.

The Sixth reduced somewhat its usual Democratic majority and the possible defeat of Circuit Judge James P. Tarvin added further interest to results in that district.

The Seventh was as of old—Democratic. The enormous majority tends to arouse one's suspicion.

The Eighth largely increased its Democratic majority. The Ninth is very close, with chances in favor of the Democrats. The returns from the Tenth are scattering, but it will probably go Democratic by 1,500.

The Eleventh's usually big Republican majorities show some falling off.

The Legislature is largely Democratic.

Gordon Wins Judgeship.

Judge J. F. Gordon is elected Circuit Judge in this, the Fourth Judicial district, composed of Hopkins, Caldwell, Crittenden and Livingston counties. The majority is about 500, over Judge Clifton J. Pratt, this being not far from the amount of Democratic majority in Hopkins, which figures about 700. Politicians on both sides have anticipated that this race would go as went Hopkins county and the hot fight made by the Democrats for this county was the result of this idea.

Judge J. F. Gordon and wife passed through yesterday afternoon enroute to Princeton, where the Judge goes to resume his duties on the bench of Caldwell county. Court has been in session with a special judge sitting, until the political campaign should close.

The banking capital of New York city has been doubled within five years.

A SURPRISE

Hallowe'en Party Given at the Residence of Mrs. C. E. McGary Saturday Night.

Saturday night somewhere near 8 o'clock a long line of small, white robed figures filed noiselessly into the spacious residence of Mrs. C. E. McGary, on Farron avenue and immediately after their entrance a succession of piercing shrieks rang out on the startled air. It was a surprise Hallowe'en party and the shrieks emanated from Misses Martha and Virginia McGary on first beholding the ghosts. After the 25 guests had been duly inspected and several wild guesses made as to their identity, the apple biting contest was installed. This consists of placing a number of apples in a pail of water and the contestant is to bite a piece from the apple, hands tied behind them. In case they succeed in biting the apple he or she, as the case may be, can secure any one they want as a future partner of their joys and sorrows.

Misses Pansy Rule and Eleanor Dee Gordon succeeded in this contest. Another was biting an apple attached to a string and swinging from the ceiling. Several of the boys and girls made frantic efforts to take a piece from the smooth, red sides of the apple, but only a few succeeded. Among the successful ones were Miller Evans, John Moore and George Arnold. After spending some time in this manner, the lights were turned out and a solitary candle was lighted, the ghost like figures arranged themselves in circles on the floor and told in whispers the horrible deeds of graveyard ghosts in ages past and then in more lively tones of the antics of brownies, hies and wood nymphs that tangle the curls of little girls and throw trash in little boys' eyes when they climb trees to rob birds' nests. When the ghost stories were over the guests divested themselves of their masks and ghostly apparel and forming in pairs marched to the dining room, where a delicious repast, consisting of cakes, candies, fruits, nuts, sandwiches, salads, etc., awaited. In the center of the handsomely decorated table was a huge bowl of punch, delectable punch, punch that made the old young, made the sun shine and the heart sing a new song. This was one of the most enjoyable parties that has been given in Earlington for some time and was thoroughly enjoyed by every guest. Mrs. McGary is an adept in the art of entertaining and usually makes a success of anything she undertakes.

A Trip in the Mines.

A party of young people, chaperoned by Mr. and Mrs. W. S. McGary and Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Browning, took a trip in No. 9 Saturday night. Mr. J. Y. Montague was instrumental in getting up the party and had a conveyance call at the various homes for the pleasure seekers. As usual, the crowd had a good time and returned about midnight black, dirty and happy. Every one expressed a desire to make the same trip any time the opportunity affords. After meeting train 91 at the depot the jolly crowd was driven to their respective homes. The following composed the party:

MISSES: Edith Root, J. Y. Montague, Lillie Evans, Harry Withers, Maggie Fenwick, Grover Long, George Wyatt, John Long, Sadie Stokes, David Cowell, Blanch Edmondson Ed Trehorn, Virgie Rule, Henry Coward, Frances Young, Jas O'Morelin.

A Song of the Future.

I hear you sing a new song, Church,
And, oh, I like the singing.
The meaning of the song you sing
Will set the joy bells ringing.

Too long, O Church, our songs have been

To sinners most surprising,
For while we've sung, "No compromise,"

We've kept on compromising,
And, then, we've sung with might and main,

"The Whole, Wide World for Jesus,"
Until the world, forced by our deeds,
Has come not to believe us.

When we have sung that sacred song,

"Where Jesus Leads I'll Follow," We've meant—"In Filthy Politics Election Day I'll Wallow."

Then, too, we've sung that good old
song,

"Oh, Dare to Be a Daniel,"
And gone straight to the polling place

And acted like a spaniel.
I'm glad, O Church, to hear the song
I have just heard you singing;
Its echo round the whole wide world
Will set the joy bells ringing.

At the last meeting of the W. C.
T. U., Oct. 27, it was decided that a superintendent of literature should be appointed. The president will make the appointment on or before the next meeting. The union also ordered the subscription of one copy of the School Physiology Journal.
The union will meet next Tuesday at half past two o'clock with Mrs.
Sadie Liddle. All friends of temperance are cordially invited.

The Kentucky Synod of the Cumberland Presbyterian church held its annual convention in Madisonville last week. The report of the committee on temperance was one of the most prominent features of the session. It embodied a scathing denunciation of the licensed saloon and of members of the church who patronize saloons. The report also contained a resolution declaring that no member of the church ought to vote for any man who was not an outspoken opponent of the manufacture and sale of liquor as a beverage. A very spirited discussion followed the reading of the report, but it was one in which the speakers were all on the same side—in support of the resolutions and opposed to saloons. When the question was called for, every member to a man voted in the affirmative. It remains to be seen whether every one who thus voted prohibition sentiment at the Synod, voted the same way at the polls last Tuesday. Many were sure did so. All would do so, were it not for the old license party whip. Nevertheless, there is this encouraging fact, the independent vote is becoming more and more an important factor as the days go by.
As men learn to think for themselves the old party prejudices take flight.

Chancellor Henry Mitchell Mc-Cracken, chancellor of the college of the city of New York, in an address on its opening day, Sept. 30, said:

"When a boy learns from his father that it is manly to drink, healthful to smoke and picturesque to sweat, the college has a hard time to convince that youth that the library is a more attractive place than a beer room.

"We notify mothers and fathers who send us spoiled boys that we will try to make them decent men, but if twelve months' time shows the spoiling process to be still going on, we will send the article home, all charges prepaid.

"We would rather graduate a freshman into a place on his father's farm in Westchester or his father's shop downtown in Manhattan than to keep him three years longer and graduate him as a dissipated scholar, however brilliant."

The sale of malt liquors in New York City averages annually a little more than a barrel for every man, woman and child; in Chicago and Philadelphia nearly two barrels for each inhabitant; in Boston more than two barrels; in St. Louis and Cincinnati more than three barrels; in Newark, N. J., nearly five barrels, and in Milwaukee seven barrels.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT ISSUES

THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION.

Washington, October 31.—The President today issued his annual Thanksgiving proclamation in the following terms:
By the President of the United States of America.

A PROCLAMATION.

The season is at hand, when, according to the custom of our people, it falls on the President to appoint a day of praise and thanksgiving to God.

During the last year the Lord has dealt bountifully with us, giving us peace at home and abroad and the chance for our citizens to work for their welfare unhindered by war, famine or plague. It behoves us not only to rejoice greatly because of what has been given us, but to accept it with a solemn sense of responsibility, realizing that under heaven it rests with us ourselves to show that we are worthy to use aright what has thus been intrusted to our care. In no other place and at no other time has the experiment of government of the people, by the people and for the people been tried on so vast a scale as here in our own country in the opening years of the Twentieth century. Failure would not only be a dreadful thing for all mankind, because it would mean loss of hope for all who believe in the power and the righteousness of liberty.
Therefore, in thanking God for the mercies extended to us in the past, we beseech Him that He may not withhold them in the future, and that our hearts may be roused to war steadfastly for good and against all the forces of evil, public and private. We pray for strength and light, so that in the coming years we may with cleanliness, fearlessness and wisdom do our allotted work on the earth in such manner as to show that we are not altogether unworthy of the blessings we have received.

Now, therefore, I, Theodore Roosevelt, President of the United States, do hereby designate as a day of general thanksgiving Thursday, the twenty-sixth of the coming November, and do recommend that throughout the land people cease from their wonted occupations and in their several places of worship render thanks unto Almighty God for His manifold mercies.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

Done at the City of Washington, this 31st day of October, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and three and of the independence of the United States the one hundred and twenty-sixth.

By the President:
JOHN HAY, Secretary of State.

THURSDAY, NOV. 5, 1903.

The cry of "nigger" in Hopkins county has been overworked in the campaign just ended. Not to be sure, to the confounding of those politicians who originated it, who carried the campaign through on that high plane and who now boast of the manner of that campaign. Speeches have been made by men claiming to be advocates of law and order, which, if their spirit were coined into action, would load the followers of these advocates to riot and bloodshed in Hopkins county, where the record of political days has been clear of violence.

It may be said to the credit of the Hopkins county negroes that they have never "tried to run the elections." They have recognized that Kentucky is a "white man's country" and have never asked for representation on any political ticket in this county. They have as a class asked simply for a chance to live and enjoy in their humble station the rights guaranteed to them by law. Sometimes they have voted. And they have not voted the Democratic ticket. Here lies the trouble. The silly twaddle about "negro domination" is wholly insincere. The Democratic politician, like every other politician, is anxious for the negro's vote, and would today, if he could, turn the negro vote solidly into his party's column. Would it be "negro domination" if the negro vote helped to elect a Democrat, a Populist or a Socialist-Labor candidate?

Of course the politicians do not mean what they say. They have no fear of "negro domination," no idea that "negro equality" will ever happen in Kentucky. These things they use simply as clubs to alarm the less enlightened and more deeply prejudiced of their adherents. In the minds of fair and unprejudiced Democrats these leaders stand convicted of insincerity or worse. There have some instances come to light where the extreme methods used in the campaign turned a Democratic vote. These instances are rare and the methods adopted, however reprehensible, was a winner. Whether the same line of "argument" can be carried on indefinitely without a reaction upon the men and the party who champion "nigger" as the paramount issue, remains for the intelligent voters of Hopkins county to determine.

THANKSGIVING approaches and we may all begin now by giving thanks that another political campaign is over and the politician may now cease his troubling and rest his jaw. The leading statements in a certain class of political speeches preface a scarcity of poultry in Hopkins, but the people who could swallow those statements will be able to eat rooster if the Thanksgiving turkey goes away on a warm pole.

The Wingo Outlook publishes an innovation in the line of personal newspaper work. In recent issues, alive in other particulars, it has chronicled a complete list of the dead who have been interred in the local cemeteries. It takes a live paper to dig up and make attractive dead issues like this.

An earthquake is reported from Hopkinsville. It was felt about 1 o'clock Wednesday afternoon—just about the time the full Democratic state news struck Christian county.

A THOUGHT FOR THE WEI K.

Advertising pays because it is the "Publicity Department" of business, enabling the progressive merchant to make the entire community a possible customer at his own store.

Advertising pays because it brings customers and the firm becomes more widely known, which not only increases the trade but costs only a small sum.

Advertising is a very profitable method of transacting business bringing hundreds into communication, resulting in the filling of the wants of both buyer and seller.

People are awake to the fact that their interest is with the man that tells them of his wonderful bargains with press and painter.

A Famous Timekeeper.

The world's best timekeeper is said to be the electric clock in the basement of the Berlin observatory, which was installed by Professor Forster in 1865. It is inclosed in an air tight glass cylinder and has frequently run for periods of two or three months with a daily deviation of only fifteen-one-thousandths of a second. Yet astronomers are not satisfied even with this, and efforts are continually made to secure ideal conditions for a clock by keeping it not only in an air tight case, but in an underground vault where neither changes of temperature nor of barometric pressure shall ever affect it.

PROGRESS OF FAIR.

Louisiana Purchase Department 89 Per Cent. Done.

Far Ahead of Chicago's Record

Seventeen State Buildings Now Under Way—Activity Along the Pike—Foreign Buildings Going Up—Landscaping Adds to the Beauty.

The exposition is rapidly assuming a finished look. Figures furnished by the builders of the great enterprise verify the impression. Although the work is proportionately far ahead on any other exposition at this date, no advance of the opening, there is no cessation of activity and the army of 7,000 men are working with might and main.

Director of Works Taylor furnished President Francis with a statement a few days ago showing that the exposition exhibits progress as a whole, 89 per cent completed. Statistics show that the exhibit buildings at the Columbian exposition at Chicago, at a corresponding period, seven months before the opening, were but 41 per cent completed. Here is another decided advantage that these figures do not show, namely, that the building season is much longer in St. Louis than in Chicago. No doubt prevails in St. Louis about all being in readiness for the opening on April 30 next.

In making his report to Francis, Director of Works Taylor furnished the following official figures, showing the percentage of work done on the various exhibit palaces:

Transportation, 75; Liberal Arts, 95; Electricity, 99%; Education, 99; Manufactures, 87; Varied Industries, 99%; Machinery, 95; Mines and Metallurgy, 83; Forestry, Fish and Game, 30; Agriculture, 92; Horticulture, 62; Main Art, 57; Temporary Art, 89%; Colonades and Restaurants, 92; Festival Hall, 2.

On the Plateau of States these autumn days busy scenes are being enacted. Seventeen of the states have already got their pavilions well under way. Work will begin on another dozen within a week, and bids for construction of many more have been asked for. These state buildings will prove a great architectural attraction. Every theme is treated and a new chapter in exposition history have the architects shown their original striking designs.

Mr. Taylor's official estimate of the percentage of work done on the state buildings follows:

Kentucky, 60; Wisconsin, 1; Louisiana, 55; Missouri, 65; Ohio, 35; New York, 10; Kansas, 65; Iowa, 91; Arizona, 90; New Jersey, 60; Indiana, 5; Arkansas, 15; Connecticut, 60; Nevada, 10; Oklahoma, 60; West Virginia, 60; Illinois, 10.

The T. P. A. building, which is to be headquarters for the commercial travelers during the exposition, is 65 per cent finished. The walls are being reared for the Temple of Fraternity, built by the united fraternal orders. The foundation work is in progress for the inside inn, a hotel within the exposition grounds, containing 2,500 rooms.

The same scenes of activity are being manifested on The Pike, the street of amusement concessions. The "Galveston Flood" is 40 per cent finished. "The Streets of Cairo" and the "Tyrolean Alps" are a quarter done, and good starts have been made on "Creation," "Old St. Louis," and other interesting attractions.

The grading for the eight miles of Intramural railway, which touches every point of interest in its grounds, has been completed, and much of the steel has been laid.

Perhaps the work that adds more to the apparent completion of the exposition than all other is the landscaping. Seventy-five thousand yards of sod have been placed and it has converted barren hillides and yellow clay plains into beautiful lawns. Other places, where the top soil was not removed, has been seeded to blue grass and already a good stand has been secured. The rose garden, on the agricultural grounds, covering six acres and containing 40,000 rose bushes, many of which are now in blossom, is a rarely beautiful sight. The landscape department at present employs 600 men and lawns are being made, flower beds designed and shrubs planted wherever the work of the builders will permit.

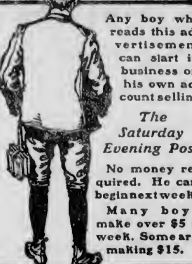

The foreign buildings are naturally more backward than the others. Yet they are beginning to make a good showing. Mexico has finished her building. France and England are half up, and China, Canada, Germany and Japan are showing progress.

A large model in relief, designed to present in a vivid way the irrigation idea, upon the development of which so much of the future prosperity of the arid and semi-arid lands of the West depends, will be a feature of the exhibit of the United States Geological Survey at the World's Fair. The model is 21 feet long by seven feet wide and reproduces a part of the Salt River valley in Arizona. It is on a scale of 21 inches to the mile. It is painted in imitation of the natural landscape. The brownish desert is relieved with patches of green, where water has been brought by the irrigating canals.

The Kentucky Exhibit Association will have 150 barrels of fine apples and pears in cold storage this winter for the state's horticultural display at the exposition in St. Louis next year.

Pendleton county has sent in for Kentucky's mineral display at the World's Fair a large box of stone.

Who Has Learned?

Will the dear, long-suffering public ever learn wisdom and prudence and become provident? The long periods of zero-suffering to which a large portion of the public is subjected annually should teach a lesson, and the people should rise in their might and change the worn, old adage about hay to read:

Get Coal While....
The Sun Shines!

If those who do not live on a coal foundation had filled their coal bins and coal houses liberally in the warm weather, when coal and hauling is cheap and the roads good, and had not, like the grasshopper, dilled the summer away without providing against the winter's rigors, they would not have had to dance and burn back fences for warmth during the cold snaps and coal shortages of the past few years, which all remember so well.

DISPLAY OF FORESTRY

Plans Laid For Excellent Exhibit From Kentucky.

CHAIRMAN ISSUES INSTRUCTIONS

Space Assigned the State for its Timber at the World's Fair in Middle of Forestry Building and on Two of the Main Alarcs—Logs, Boards and Manufactured Articles to Be Shown.

Kentucky has been assigned space for a timber display in the Forestry exhibit, which will bring it prominently before every visitor who enters the Forestry and Fish and Game building at the World's Fair. This space, thanks to the kindness of the chief of the department, Mr. Tarrinton H. Bean, is almost in the center of the structure. It is on two of the main alarcs.

The fact that the forestry exhibit from Kentucky is to have such a prominent place in the building has caused the chairman of the Forestry Exhibit Committee of the Kentucky Exhibit Association, Mr. A. N. Struck of Louisville, and the field representative, Mr. William Burt, to redouble their efforts in making the display worthy of the place.

Mr. Struck has had a draughtsman draw the accompanying sketch, which shows the method to be followed in displaying samples of Kentucky's forest resources. This plan is the most up-to-date yet found. It is recommended by government experts as the most economical and best way to make an exhibit.

Samples in eight-foot lengths are always worth something at the close of an exposition, if there is no further use for them for display purposes. By this plan adopted, the ends of the logs show the cross cuts while the section cut out in the middle shows the lateral cut, as well as the beauty of the grain.

In giving directions to lumbermen throughout the state who are to make exhibits, Mr. Struck says that all logs must be cut to eight feet, and that the diameter should not be less than 24 inches, if possible to get more.

Arrangements are to be made to store these logs in two or three different places in the state, and have certain men prepare them so all shall be finished in the same way. In addition to the logs to be displayed there will be board samples, also cut according to instructions given by government experts. These will be partly finished and partly unfinished, so as to show the wood in its natural and in its finished state. While the log and the board samples will give an idea of the untold forestry wealth of Kentucky, the exhibit is not to neglect the forestry industries of the state, so far as finished products are concerned. Manufacturers of everything made from wood are invited to display these products in Kentucky's space in the Forestry building.

As the time for collecting the exhibit passes, lumbermen in all parts of the state who have not subscribed are contributing to the fund being raised by the Kentucky Exhibit Association, which makes possible not only the Kentucky building at the World's Fair, but this big display of her products and resources. Several firms and corporations have made second subscriptions to the fund. There are many lumbermen, however, who have not yet shown the substantial interest that was expected of them and the Exhibit Association announces that, if these will come forward, there will be no further doubt as to the success of the forestry exhibit.

UNIQUE AND VALUABLE PEARLS.

A unique pearl cluster from Shark's Bay, West Australia, will be exhibited at the World's Fair, by C. A. Burt. This valuable natural specimen consists of 150 pearls in a solid cluster, and measures 14 inches by 8 inches, and is about half an inch thick.

A cluster known as the Southern Cross, found some years ago at the Loope Islands, changed hands a short time ago. The cluster was valued at $50,000. Experts are estimating the value of the cluster to be seen at the World's Fair, taking the Southern Cross as a criterion, place it at $25,000 to $30,000.

Suppression of Crime in Kentucky.

An eloquent plea for the enforcement of law and the spread of intelligence in Kentucky was made by the Rev. Dr. D. F. Stafford, pastor of the Third Christian church of Louisville. Dr. Stafford spoke upon "The Needs of Kentucky." He said in part:

"Kentucky has been slandered at home and abroad by the state journals as well as the public press. The topography of the State is peculiar. Western Kentucky and the Bluegrass region are as fair a land as the sun ever shone upon, where intelligence and religious refinement reach the high water mark; but in among the mountains, in the eastern part of the State, live a peculiar people, who cling to the ideas and customs of 100 years ago. The mountain people know little of the outside world and care less. They speak of Louisville as the settlement and regard it as a new town on the remote frontier. They are people who grasp ideas as few people can. Some of the foremost men in the pulpit, bar and business world have come from the mountain district of this State.

"The crying need of this fair land is, first, a spirit of intelligent sentiment in favor of law and order. The second need is a sentiment against the liquor traffic, the curse of curses, from which all crimes culminate. The third need is the protection of the public schools, morally, religiously and politically. The fourth and last need of the State is to be Christianized."

Millions of Poor Suffer.

The worn-out stomach and the overfed millionaire is often the paraded in the public prints as a horrible example of the evils attendant on the possession of great wealth. But millions are not the only ones who are afflicted with bad stomachs. The proportion is far greater among the toilers. Dyspepsia and indigestion are rampant among these people, and they suffer far worse troubles than the millionaire unless they avail themselves of a standard medicine like Green's August Flower, which has been a favorite household remedy for all stomach troubles for over thirty-five years. August Flower cures the torpid liver, thus restores the system and insures perfect digestion. It tones and vitalizes the entire system and makes life worth living. Write for a free trial. Trial bottles, 25c; regular size, 75c.

Killed in a Halloween Frolic.

Mr. Vernon, Ky., Nov. 1st.—Last night at Brodhead, this county, Josiah Sutton, aged seventeen, was accidentally shot through the head and instantly killed while in a Halloween frolic. Horace Benton, aged twenty, a nephew of Sutton's, who was with him, thought there were blank cartridges in his pistol, fired the fatal shot while carelessly handling the weapon. Young Benton was so overwrought over the affair that he had to be induced from committing suicide. He is the eldest son of Dr. Percy Benton, a leading physician of his town.

WONDERFUL STORY

Of the Railroads Giving Amazing Facts About American Supremacy.

In 1850 there was not one mile of railway in Wisconsin, Tennessee or Florida, or anywhere west of the Mississippi River. Even in 1870 half the area of the country was still without railways.

In 1900 the United States had 193,346 miles of railway lines, two-fifths of the mileage of the world. In round numbers there are, now 200,000 miles.

A single American system, the Pennsylvania, carries more freight than all the lines combined in any other nation in the world.

The first American railway—not built for steam cars, however—was made to haul Quincy granite for the Bunker Hill Monument. That was in 1826. It was three miles long. The first railway built for steam cars was the Charleston and New Hamburg Line, in South Carolina. This was for some time the longest line in the world, 157 miles. When the war closed in 1865, no American railroad had 1,000 miles of tracks. Now there are eight great systems with over 10,000 miles each.

Roughly, our railroads systems are capitalized at $12,000,000,000, divided half and half between stocks and bonds. A little over half the stocks pay dividends.

The capital of the railroads is more than 12 times as great as that of all the banks.

The first locomotives weighed three to five tons. An imported English locomotive weighing 10 tons was too heavy. Twenty-five engines of that day would make one of today.

Fifty years ago a train load of 200 tons was heavy. Now loads of 2,000 to 2,500 tons are handled.

Europe has 4.4 miles of railway for 10,000 people; the United States 25 miles.

Freight pays the bills. This is more true of this country than of any other. Freight revenue is over $1,000,000,000; passenger receipts about $500,000,000. Our average passenger train carries only 40 people. English people take railroad trips four times as often in proportion as Americans, but shorter ones.

The "ton mileage" of freight in 1901 was 147,077,168,040—a number too vast to be conceived. The average journey of a ton of freight is 125 miles.

There is much talk every year about "moving the crops" and freight car famines in the "granger" region. Yet farm products are only one-ninth of the country's freight. Mines furnish more than half, forests one-fifth, factories one-seventh.

There are 183,000 miles of railway mail routes. Strange as it may seem, this mileage is considerably surpassed by the distance over which mails are carried on horseback or by wagon. The quantity of mail so carried, however, is comparatively trifling.—New York World.

Description of Most Complete Exhibit Ever Attempted.

St. Louis, Nov. 3.—The Palace of Mines and Metallurgy at the St. Louis Exposition of 1904 will include exhibits showing the methods of working mines and quarries and prospecting for mineral deposits, collections of minerals and stone, and the equipment and processes connected with their development and utilization; models, maps and photographs illustrating the nature and extent of mineral deposits. Methods of working them and the equipment and processes connected with their utilization; collection of ores and the equipment and processes connected with their metallurgical treatment; literature of mining and metallurgy.

The Palace of Mines and Metallurgy will be the largest structure which has been provided for mining and metallurgical exhibits at any exposition. On three sides the walls of this building are set back about twenty feet from the facade, leaving an intervening space or loggia, well adapted for certain classes of exhibits.

One of the largest groups in the building will consist of ores and minerals in their rough brawn, sawed or polished states. This group also contains specimens of the various classes of rocks, clays and other minerals, including gems, and precious stones, natural mineral paints, mineral fertilizers, and mineral fuels (luminant and water). Space will also be set aside for systematic collections in geology, mineralogy, crystallography and paleontology.

Books and other literary materials that deal with geology and the mining world and its interest will constitute a unique library. Room will be allotted for geological maps, charts, or models of underground topography and geology, also for relief maps, models and working plans of mines, statistics and other publications relating to mining, metallurgy, geology and mineralogy, and the development of the water resources. The collections of ores and minerals will be supplemented by exhibits illustrating the processes of treatment and the finished products. The machinery and equipment for treating and utilizing these ores and minerals will be shown in actual operation in all possible cases, so that exhibits illustrating the processes of treatment and the finished products will be given life and interest.

The machinery connected with mining and quarrying operations, including drilling, blasting, timbering and hoisting operations, drainage, illumination and ventilation, will be shown. The manufacture of refractory materials for metallurgical purposes, such as fire-brick, crucibles, retorts, gas generators and furnaces; the treatment of the ores of iron, the manufacture of iron and steel in ingots or bars, Bessemer metal, various processes of manufacturing iron and steel directly from the ores; the refining of the metal, and the manufacture of various finished products in iron and steel will be demonstrated.

The same will be arranged with regard to electro-metallurgy, processes of washing goldsmith's dust, and dust from refiners of precious metals, the exact rolling and beating of gold, silver and tin, electro-plating and metal plates. Space, too, will be provided for an exhibit of drawn tubes and piping in iron, steel, copper, tin and lead.

Continuous to the Palace of Mines and Metallurgy an area of twelve acres will be set aside for the display and operation of exhibits too large or too noisy for the inside of the building. In the hill which constitutes a portion of this space, tunnels and drifts will be driven, and in these will be shown the methods of drilling, timbering and ventilating mines, and the underground transportation and handling of ores. A coal mine (located on a two-foot seam of coal, discovered within the Exposition grounds), a lead and zinc mine and a copper mine, each separate from the other, will be opened up within the outdoor space described above. These will be supplied with a full equipment for the handling and transportation of ores, and with pumps for drainage, and in them will be shown the different systems of draining, illuminating and ventilating mines. These three separate mines will be connected by an electric mine railway, which has a total length of more than 2,000 feet.

Crime Among Educated.

Indeed the number of crimes committed by the highly educated is an alarming feature of the situation. The list of offending bookkeepers, bank-tellers, clerks, and college graduates constantly lengthens, reflecting a lurid light upon the theories of those who attempt to account for the origin of all sin, vice, and crime by ignorance. Those who attribute all crime to intemperance are also silenced, since many prevalent crimes are incompatible with that vice, for they require the keenest intellect, the most concentrated attention. It is noteworthy, also, that representatives of the clerical, the legal, and the medical professions are furnishing an increasing number of crimes of dishonesty, violence, and pollution of domestic life.—James M. Buckley's "The Present Epidemic of Crime" in the November Century.

The trouble with trouble is that most people can't distinguish between the genuine article and the counterfeit.

People don't worry half as much about what the Lord thinks of them as they do about what their neighbors say to them.

ANCIENT ANIMAL HISTORY.

The Story of the Grasshopper That Made the Missimo Valley.

The vast low Jurassic Island had been raised above the level of the sea, where now the great continent stands. A Material Dinosaur was leading her ponderous troop in single file across the upheaved marshy plain. A dry season had blighted the lower pastures and forced them to travel, and as she was about to turn northward, a Jurassic Grasshopper said bizz! under her nose. The insect is quite harmless, but it protects itself by imitating the fearful bizz of the ancestral Rattlesnake. The old Dinosaur wheeled to one side and raised her head. Her little twinkling eyes fell on a rank green marsh to the eastward, and she now turned and led her troop to that. Each day they came to the feeding ground along their first discovered trail, until it was worn deeply.

Time went by. A wet season made the upland marsh a brimming lake. It would have overflowed to the westward, for this was its lower side, but the deep worn trail of the Dinosaur offered an outlet that enlarged with the yearly rains faster than the slowly rising lands could tilt the other way; and so it became a stream.

Age went by. The great upheaval went on. The Rocky Mountains arose. The former trail was now a crooked river flowing eastward, growing larger, carrying into the shallow sea millions of tons of clay, till that shallow sea became the Missouri and Mississippi Valley, which might never have existed had the Dinosaur been allowed to follow her original course—a course that would have left these vast, turbid, land-creative waters free to seek the Western Sea; and the bizz of the harmless Grasshopper did it all.

MORAL:

Full of a tranquil world hath been upset by meddling word. I ween.—From Ernest Thompson Seton's "Fable and Woodmyth" in the November Century.

Uses of Turpentine.

Did you ever stop to think how many uses turpentine has and that you cannot afford to be without a large bottle full in the pantry?

For croup, cold, sore throat in any form it has no equal, especially when mixed with lard or vasoline to prevent blistering. After a severe cold may be cured by rubbing the chest and throat with a mixture of turpentine and lard. Or still another way is to wring flannel cloths out of hot water and turpentine.

In case of colds, burns and cuts turpentine, if applied immediately, will prevent soreness. It will remove paint from clothing when everything else fails, drive away moths and ants from chests and closets, and in cleaning windows and windows it considerably lightens the task.—Nebraska Farmer.

Physicians Prescribe It.

Many broad minded physicians prescribe Foley's Honey and Tar, as they have never found so safe and reliable a remedy for throat and lung troubles as this great medicine. Sold by Jno. X. Taylor.

"GHOSTS."

Intellectual theatre goers will welcome the announcement that Alberta Gallatin and her associate artists will appear at Morton's Theatre tonight, Oct. 5, in Ibsen's remarkable drama, "Ghosts," which was a sensational success in New York last season.

FRENCH LICK AND WEST BADEN SPRINGS.

In the highlands of Indiana—a two hour ride from Louisville there flow wonderful healing waters, that you'd spend hundreds of dollars to enjoy if they were in Europe.

A recent visitor from Philadelphia, who formerly went to Carlsbad every year, said: "I do not see why anyone goes to Europe for medicinal waters. The water is as beneficial, and the scenery and surrounding country, the air and the opportunities for recreation are better; the hotels and all accommodations are much finer at French Lick-West Baden Springs"—and this gentleman is a native of Switzerland.

The splendidly wooded hills with the cool, invigorating air of these highlands where one can enjoy rambling in the depths of the forest, or rides and drives among the numerous bridle paths and roads, afford pleasure for those who desire rest and quiet, while at the splendid casinos one can have all the entertainment and social pleasures possible at the most fashionable resorts.
